Server failures - writers block - human error - self-doubt - too much to drink – rock bottom ?

Click on the scorecard link above & you can read the complaint I sent today. It was the straw that broke the camel's back. I just lost it. I'm ok again now though, but in the absence of a scorecard to help me recount the facts of what happened I've decided to post the transcript of my notes. Apologies if they seem rough its just how my mind is approx 10.30 - We're fielding. Decided to have a shower. Came out of shower & found 3 old men getting naked in our dressing room. Felt the atmosphere was unusually aggressive given so much nakedness. Didn't say much, just got dressed & let them use our showers. Was a bit weird. I'm sure I would have reacted far differently if we were at KP or if I was expecting it, but the moment had already passed. Everyone else was a bit weird too. I think. (not even sure if it was funny? Or if it was, then what was funny about it?)

- Day 1

- lunch service at subway was rubbish - some people were late back to the game. SB had a rant about personal standards & bringing your own lunch - this was after he finished his Sub one of the boys had bought back for him. I've never seen him bring lunch.

- Spring-Cachopa - 180 run 4th wkt record stand - posted a serious update already so can go to town on them now -- Time old record stood for 60 years -- Use to refer to previous statement on KCC website about 'Little Person revolution' that started in Karori --- compare this revolution to other big events in the game - reverse swing, bodyline, the helmet, Twenty20 -- then use to predict future effect for all 'Little People' in another 60 years time -- equipment will no longer be made in sizes to fit men of today such as Hayden & Gayle -- todays jockeys are the perfect size for batting in 2070 --- what did an All Black look like 60 years ago compared to now -- gymnasts peak at 13 -- (**wait - can I take my readers this far ? or can they go further? Have I overdone the wise-cracks on weight & height ? *Don't let an eating disorder joke slip by accident – they can go really bad* What about dwarfs & midgets – decide its ok to use Little People - Do the people that read this rubbish even get my humour anyway ? Am I funny? Why do I want to talk more about the naked old bloke's? Why do I care if it makes me sound a bit gay? Am I gay? I'm not gay. But statistically someone in the team is.. Who is it? - I know I'll set a trap to find out...yeah I'm gunna catch him . But then what will I do? Depends who it is. I didn't do anything when I saw 3 naked strangers earlier on – but nor did anyone else.

(was clearly finding it tough at this point – my mind had probably gone already but as always I was the last to know)

Day 2

- SB rang NM on morning of 2nd day "will be late sorry mate". NM cldn't believe he dropped his personal standards

- Was spitting a little anyway. Opened laptop & browsed about . Went to cricket wgtm site - read report on last weeks club games - they used 'evergreen' again. Felt angry. I've got heaps of spare material they can have for Tiger if they're struggling. Made note to self to remove folder marked 'stuff bordering on racism' before sending to DomPost on Monday. -- Read report on Firebirds game - says Boam took 4-for when he actually got 6-for. Felt really angry. No humour at all. Boam is a sitting duck even for a novice. He's got high personal standards though

-Tea Bag takes off shirt. Oh dear. Too much fake tan

--game ends quickly. Thank god. I'm hungry & didn't bring any lunch

--Anecdote to end report -- This game was the first Pearce Cup fixture to be played at Anderson Park in almost 12 years. There were 3 players in this game who played in the last -- Baker, Edwards & Martin (no Colls players) ...

& I can't think of anything even remotely witty to tie those 3 together – it should be easy - usually theres too much to choose from. My god I hope this is rock bottom. How will I know? Don't they say you just know. So I'm not there yet then

What would Chris Spring do?
